

NATIONAL TREASURES

Here at Style at Home, we love to showcase homegrown talent. So this month our expert design editors, Ann Marie Favot and Morgan Lindsay, tell us what strikes their fancy about these rooms by Canadian designers.

"The delicate details in this dining area are what catch my eye. The chandelier adds a hint of femininity, and the handcrafted ceramics keep it down-to-earth. I love that this space is functional and fuss-free, and that the design won't detract from the joys of sharing a meal."

"This room is traditional yet modern – a style mix I crave! The round table and chandelier add movement to the space, while the hit of wood on the dining chairs and the curated art collection provide contrast to the black and white theme. And let's not ignore the area rug – it makes the floor pop!"
